

e: info@auslanstageleft.com.au w: auslanstageleft.com.au f: auslan stage left m: 0403 227 978

may update

Want to work with us? Send an email!

26th May 2013

Welcome to our first e-news

Auslan Stage Left formed in late 2012 and has since been a part of over 25 productions!

We wish to acknowledge Arts Access Victoria, Deaf Arts Network, Arts Centre Melbourne, the various production companies, interpreters and deaf theatre-goers who have supported Auslan Stage Left since its inception.

In exciting news Auslan Stage Left has recently formed a partnership with Sign Language Communications Victoria which will see both organisations support and promote each other's work and activities, particularly in the area of theatre interpreting and increasing awareness in the community about interpreting and the arts.

Our website

Online

Have you seen our website? Check out auslanstageleft.com.au for information on all upcoming shows, our team, the interpreters and photo and video highlights. Thanks to Vicky Li from dots mise, a deaf website developer, for her work on the website.

<http://dotsmise.com/>

Cheryl Sandilands: Interpreter experience

“Working on the theatre production of 'Hate' at the Malthouse was my first foray into theatre interpreting. I thoroughly enjoyed the experience; working with such stalwarts in interpreted theatre - Susan Emerson and Medina Sumovic - Medina's expertise in how our interpretation 'looked' to a Deaf audience was invaluable.

Susan's many years of theatre interpreting allowed me the luxury of being able to ask questions, no matter how trivial, and have those concerns/questions answered. We worked brilliantly together and I was thrilled to finally get to the night of the interpreted performance! It was during interval that I realised the adrenalin had kicked in and I was thoroughly enjoying the experience. Thank you to Auslan Stage Left for the privilege!”

Malthouse Theatre

Auslan Stage Left and Malthouse Theatre have enjoyed a great relationship in providing access to deaf audiences. In 2013 we are committed to interpreting four theatre performances, and will soon be part of a focus group to select which shows will be interpreted in 2014. Auslan Stage Left wishes to extend a thank you to Josh Wright and Narda Stanley for their support and dedication to providing access.

MALTHOUSE THEATRE

Upcoming Shows

30th May – Emerging Writer Book Launch. Fitzroy Town Hall @ 6.30pm with Ross Onley-Zerkel, Michelle Ashley & Daniel Hatley.

31st May – An Evening with Julie Andrews. Arts Centre Melbourne @ 8.00pm with Karen Clare & Julie Judd.

Various June – Dalai Lama in Australia (various cities) with Della Goswell, Pip Cody, Michelle Maguire, Jodee Mundy, Amber Venner, Liz Temple & Julie Judd.

10th July – The Dragon. Malthouse Theatre @ 7.30pm with (tbc) & James Blyth (Consultant)

3rd August – King Kong the Musical. Regent Theatre @ 2.00pm with Susan Emerson, Daniel Hatley & Stef Linder (Consultant)

For more info: auslanstageleft.com.au

Photo Highlights

